

List of Associate Instructors

Indiana University Geologic Field Station

Last Revised November 1, 2004

This list of more than 260 people is based on the roster books of many years, IU Archives for some early names, and people's memories. The list is chronological and gives the person's year(s) of service as a TA or AI, plus later roles as Instructor ("I") or faculty ("F"), and his/her last known or present location.

Most non-faculty instructors were called "teaching associates" until 1974, when the name "associate instructor was adopted". Thus, Mack Duncan worked as both a TA and an AI. There are at least twenty-three TAs/AIs who later became either instructors or faculty in courses at the Field Station; eight people (Tom Howald, Carolyn Rutland, Nick Schneider, Dick Gibson, Eric Weberg, Sue McDonald, Chris Carlson, and Paula Konfal) have held positions as instructor. The records indicate that Kay Behrensmeyer was the first female TA, in 1967, and there have apparently only been 8 people who were TAs/AIs for three years (excluding any years as instructor or faculty members): Bob Boyce, Steve Wells, Paul Doss, Jay Jackson, Carolyn Rutland, Lisa Rhoades, Eric Weberg, and Chris Carlson. The people on this list with the greatest years of experience are Jim Meyers and Garry Anderson with twenty-six years each. Virtually all TAs/AIs after 1949 were students a year or so prior to their first TA/AI year, or in some cases, in Option 1 before TAing Option 2.

The list should be fairly complete and accurate from 1968 to present. Before 1968, data for many years were incomplete or lacking altogether. If you are an alumnus or alumna, and you have a roster book from any year before 1968 (excepting for 1962 and 1966), we would appreciate a copy of the faculty, staff, and student name pages. Please notify iugfs@indiana.edu of any errors or additions need to be made.
